

Full-Time Research Assistant Opportunities

at The Perelman School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania

The Psychology of Eating And Consumer Health (PEACH) Lab at the Perelman School of Medicine is currently seeking full-time research assistants.

Responsibilities include:

- Recruiting participants
- Data collection
- Data entry
- Providing administrative support

Qualifications:

- An interest in food policy and nutrition research
- Bachelor's degree
- Proficient in Microsoft Office
- Prior research experience is preferable, but not required

If interested, please email a resume or curriculum vitae to Emily Yang at emily.yang@penmedicine.upenn.edu,

To learn more about the PEACH lab's work, visit us at:
www.peachlab.org